WILSON AND CABINET DISCUSS PLANS FOR SUBMARINE POLICIES

No Answer Has Come From Germany to the Inquiry As to Whether Commanders of Submarine Attacks Had Violated Promise.

WASHINGTON, March 31.—President Wilson and his cabinet today discussed the evidence thus far received by the State Department in the case of the recent disasters to steamers carrying American citizens. In the absence of conclusive proof of submarine attacks no action was taken.

It is understood that the course to be pursued by the United States, should the indications be sustained by evidence now being gathered, was considered at length. After the meeting it was authoritatively indicated that no step involving serious consequence was determined to proceed only after definite facts were before it and that there would be no action unless there was positive proof that a submarine commander had acted in violation of the principles of international law.

Secretary Lansing made it clear that he believed five or six days might elapse before the desired information was received. The press dispatch from Berlin, announcing that Gerard had presented to the foreign office an inquiry as to whether a German submarine had attacked the Sussex or the British horse ship, Englishman, was read with interest in official circles. The statement in the dispatch that the reply might be delayed bore out the opinion of officials that the German submarines on cruises at the time of the disasters had not reported. It was said at the State Department that no dispatches of importance regarding any of the cases under investigation had been received today.

ADVENTUROUS TALE TOLD BY DR. LYMAN BEFORE COMMISSIONER

Man of Many Names and Many Schemes Appears Before Official and Gives Testimony in Bankruptcy Case.

(By Review Leased Wire.)
NEW YORK, March 31.—A tale of adventures in many parts of the world under a score of assumed names, was told today by Jno. Grant Lyman, held on charges of stock swindling by use of the mails. He appeared voluntarily to testify before a United States commissioner in a bankruptcy proceeding against J. G. Putnam, the name under which he operated here just before his flight to Florida, where he was arrested as he was about to sail for Honduras, aboard a yacht he had purchased. One of Lyman's most spectacular ventures was the promotion of Panama Real Estate, for which he subsequently was arrested and jailed in Los Angeles.

"Those lands cost 15 cents an acre and were sold at $5 an acre," Lyman narrative went back to 1905 when he was a member of the New York stock exchange under his own name. At that time he was engaged in promoting land sales in New York and had never been in trouble. After that he changed his residence so frequently he declared, it was difficult for him to recall just where he had been. About 1906 Lyman was engaged in the manufacture of "scientific glassware instruments" in Philadelphia, after which he came to New York and took up real estate promotion. Later he went to Cuba and from there to Panama, where he organized the Panama Development Company.

Lyman's field of activities for the past few years, he testified, has extended over the eastern states, England and some of the continental countries. "Chas. A. Wilde," "Chas. A. Curtis," and "Jno. H. Putnam" were some of his other names. He moved later to Detroit then to Bridgeport, Conn., and from there to Boston, whence he came to New York where he remained until his flight.

LORIMER'S TROUBLES AIRED IN THE COURT

CHICAGO, March 31.—Stories of the Lorimer and Gallagher Company in connection with the wrecking of the were told today by witnesses in the trial of Wm. Lorimer, charged with conspiracy growing out of the failure of the LaSalle Street Trust and Savings Bank.

David Jettinger told of a note, given by the Lorimer-Gallagher Company for $20,000 in payment of equipment for the traction company, which was bought by the LaSalle Street Bank. When the note fell due the bank was unable to take it up and offered the company a certificate of deposit for the amount. He said Lorimer had warned him not to take the bank's certificate he went to New York to consult his superiors and on the morning of his return to Chicago the bank failed.

Thirty depositors of the LaSalle St. bank will be among the witnesses to be heard at the resumption of the trial on Monday.

LAW AND MOTION DAY IN SUPERIOR COURT; APPEAL TO BE MADE

Davidovich Case is Up for Argument Before Judge Lockwood on the Motion for a New Trial.

TOMBSTONE, March 31. (Special.)—Tomorrow will be law and motion day in the Superior Court and Judge Lockwood expects to clear up a lot of business that has been continued from time to time on account of the trial of cases before the jury. A number of probate matters will also be attended to that have also been postponed.

One of the most interesting cases that will come up tomorrow will be the argument for a motion for a new trial in the case of Steve Davidovich or Steve Davis, is sometimes known as against the Superior & Pittsburg Mining Company. The case was tried last month and the jury brought in a verdict for damages in the sum of $10,000. After the trial the defendants produced affidavits to the effect that the plaintiff had injured one of his eyes in Globe while in the employ of the Old Dominion Copper Company several years ago and that it was not injured at the time that he said it was while he was in the employ of the Superior and Pittsburg Company. The plaintiff now has secured affidavits and testimony to show that he is not the same man that was injured in Globe. There promises to be some interesting developments in the case tomorrow. Several witnesses have been summoned by each side and it will take considerable time to dispose of the case.

In the case of Vinnie S. Minica, as administrator of the estate of Jesus Rodriguez, deceased, against the Copper Queen Mining Company for damages in the sum of $10,000, the argument on the motion for a removal to the United States Court at Tucson will be heard. The motion is being made by the defendants. R. N. French will appear for the plaintiff and Ellinwood & Ross for the defendants.

The law points in the case of E. M. Quirk vs Tom Hatton, Pat Hatton and John Hatton, an action for recovery of money, will also be heard. The case comes from Dos Cabezas, all of the parties being residents of that camp. A motion for a new trial in the case of the West Publication Company vs S. K. Williams, will be heard. The case was tried recently and the jury brought in a verdict in favor of the plaintiff.

Several default divorce cases will also be taken up.

To Go To Florence.
Judge Lockwood will leave Wednesday for Florence, where, on Thursday morning, he will render his decision in the Lobb vs Avenante et al Water Priority case, which will settle all controversies regarding the normal flow of water in the Gila river, appropriated for the use of lands about Florence and Casa Grande. The suit involves 250 defendants and many thousands of acres of land. Judge Lockwood has been at work on the voluminous testimony and briefs taken from the record prepared by Referee John Walker. The suit has been a friendly one and was brought for the purpose of determining the amount of water each one of the settlers was entitled to. The Judge expects to be back Friday evening so that he can open court on Saturday morning following.

Arrested in San Diego.
John S. McFadden, of Boulder, Colorado, who was arrested in San Diego on Wednesday on a charge of forgery, is wanted in Bisbee for passing a bad check in the sum of $180 on the Citizens Bank & Trust Company, a few weeks ago. It may be that efforts will be made to extradite him provided the California authorities want to give him up or some other state does not want him. According to the story told by McFadden to the arresting officers in San Diego, he has left a string of bad checks all over the west and has passed a number in Los Angeles. He is about twenty-six years old and is a graduate of the University of Colorado and a member of the Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity and has victimized a number of the members of that society. He has a wife living in Colorado. McFadden will not be brought back here unless the other officers fail to make a case against him as the officers here feel that if they can convict him in California, the county should not be put to that expense of bringing him back and his conviction any place would have the same results as bringing him back here at a great expense. Telegrams have been sent asking whether or not he will be tried by the authorities in California and upon the reply Sheriff Wheeler will decide whether or not to go after him.

GRAFT TRIAL POSTPONED.
WINNIPEG, Man., March 31.—The trial of Sir Redmond Roblin, former premier of Manitoba and Geo. R. Caldwell and James H. Howden, ministers in the Roblin cabinet, was postponed from the present assizes to the summer terms, which begins the last week in May, when Justice Prendergast in assize court today granted an application of counsel for the crown. The former government officials, who appeared in court, but who did not plead, are charged with conspiracy to defraud the government in the erection of the Parliament buildings here. The court made no ruling in the cases of Thomas Wolley the contractor, charged with defrauding the province in the erection of the buildings, in as much as the accused man is outside of the province.

WILL ATTEMPT TO STOP SHOWING OF "BIRTH OF A NATION" IN BISBEE

City Council Empowers Mayor to Take the Necessary Steps Looking Toward the Prevention of Exhibition.

"The Birth of a Nation" is coming to Bisbee. But not without its attendant and to-be-expected trouble attached. In the form of action on the part of the city council against its showing in the city. Coincidentally with the announcement that the Orpheum management and Walter T. Murphy had agreed on terms for the picture masterpiece, it also became known that the council adopted a resolution empowering the mayor to take such steps as might be necessary to prevent its exhibition in Bisbee.

It is perhaps due to the amount of this character of publicity, in every part of the country, that "The Birth of a Nation" is considered the greatest effort of its kind, in all history. It is good publicity and the people behind the production, in all probability, welcome lights in which they have all the better of the argument, whether legal or moral.

"I would not know what to do if we did not encounter opposition," said Murphy last evening. "When we are forced to fight it only makes our attraction stronger and though we do not seek trouble we have no doubt as to the eventual issue in matters of this kind."

Mayor Adams, yesterday, in speaking of the matter, was rather reticent regarding the action of the council. He did not say by what means he would stop the performance of the picture nor what would be done in the event the matter was taken to the courts.

"The negro race," said the mayor, "should be protected from the exhibition of pictures of this kind. It is not fair to them in any sense of the word. I do not believe in allowing anything to be shown which would tend to stir up race prejudice."

In view of the city administration's attitude in the matter, it is interesting to note a decision, rendered by Judge Charles C. Butler in the district court of the second judicial district of the state of Colorado, making a temporary restraining order permanent in character in preventing the commissioner of safety for the city of Denver from interfering with the showing of "The Birth of a Nation."

In referring to the question of imposition upon the negro race, through the medium of the picture, Judge Butler said, in part: "It is true there was much in the picture to cause a feeling of humiliation and shame, but, in my mind, the humiliation and shame I felt were not for the colored race or for the colored people pictured in the play. They aroused my sympathy and pity. The shame that I felt was for the actions of those of my own race."

It seems to me incredible that anybody but a person who is himself a moral degenerate, could go to that play and come out with a desire to commit an assault upon a colored man. It seems to me beyond the bonds of probability that any danger will come to anybody because of the exhibition of this play in Denver at this time.

"I may add in a supplementary way, that every play is usually composed of a conflict between the good and evil. The rule contended for by the defendant would cause the suppression of Shakespeare's Shylock, the suppression of the opera, "The Huguonots," indeed it would cause the suppression of most of the masterpieces of literature and nearly all the dramas."

vows, is to force the breaking up of large estates most of which are owned by families known to be inimical to the Carranza government.

After allowing several shipments of rifle cartridges to cross the border, the United States authorities have again tightened their embargo on ammunition destined for the Carranza government in Mexico. Three hundred thousand rounds of cartridges consigned to General Calles, are held in the local express office under heavy military guard. Although consul Levelev has communicated with Washington repeatedly during the last ten days, he has been unable to secure permission for the shipment of the ammunition to Agua Prieta.

YAJUI CAMPAIGN STOPPED.
DOUGLAS, March 31.—Every soldier of the expedition which has been fighting in the Yaqui River Valley against the broncho Yaquis has been withdrawn from the mountains, according to a newspaper special received tonight from Nogales.

The commanding officers gave out the report that they were need to protect the railroads, but from what danger was not stated. A general movement to the east and north has been under way for at least ten days.

For the purpose of taking the places of the troops which have been withdrawn from the Yaqui campaign, four regiments of volunteers are being organized. The significant fact is that these regiments are composed largely of men who have taken no part whatsoever in the factional warfare of Indian war, previously. It was announced at General Calles' headquarters in Agua Prieta tonight that the hospital which had been located in Agua Prieta for many months, would be moved Saturday to Fronteras. Dr. Cantu, a Mexican physician who recently arrived from Mexico City, will be in charge. From the same source it was learned that twenty-five hundred troops would be stationed in Fronteras, twenty-two miles south of here.

DENVER, March 31.—Joe Flynn of Denver won over Jack Gillis of San Francisco by a knockout in the ninth round tonight. The bout was to have some twenty rounds. They are lightweights.
